

A Shore Walk

The two little old ladies were lazily strolling down the long wooden 6 foot wide boardwalk. One of the ladies was wearing bright fluorescent green sunglasses which contrasted horribly with her obviously new pink flamingo purse and old-lady dyed blue hair which was teased 12 inches above her forehead. Her friend was a 4'6" tall redhead wearing a purple, floppy hat that was about 2' wide. She looked out of place because she was wearing a long, heavy fur coat over a black, wool dress. She also had four inch stiletto heels that made her walk in a jerky, wobbly way. As they walked, a large, blue Frisbee sailed towards them and landed on the wooden boardwalk. Out of nowhere a huge, hairy dog bounded wildly onto the boardwalk and slammed into the ladies at 50 mph. They fell like bowling pins, and the hairy, slobbering dog began licking their faces. They sputtered and yelled at the dog, who then grabbed the floppy hat from the lady and ran about ten yards down the beach. The mad, tiny woman took off her heels and began to run after him. She ran for about 3 minutes until she was out of breath, wheezing and huffing. She hoped the silly, hairy mutt looked good in her hat. She'd spend the $9.95 for a new one at Walmart.
